FBT CHECKLIST 2016

CAR FRINGE BENEFITS	YES/NO
Does a car fringe benefit arise?
Were any vehicles provided to employees (or associates) during the FBT year? If so, were the vehicles designed to carry less than one tonne or fewer than nine passengers? If so, the vehicle would be classified as a 'car' for FBT purposes. If not, the provision of the vehicle might constitute a 'residual fringe benefit'. Different requirements in valuing the benefit apply.
Calculation of taxable value
Statutory Formula Method
What is the acquisition date for the car? In calculating the taxable value of the car fringe benefit, the acquisition date may have an effect on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the statutory rate which applies, and • whether there is a one-third reduction to the base value of the car.
What are the opening and closing odometer readings for the car?
Was a 'commitment' to acquire or lease the car entered into after 7.30pm AEST on 10 May 2011 during the FBT year? A 'commitment' is financially binding for at least one party and is entered into at the point there is a commitment to a transaction and it cannot be backed out of. If yes: Where a 'commitment' is entered into after that time, a flat rate of 20% applies to all car fringe benefits provided in respect of such commitments. This will apply in most cases now. If no: The old statutory rates continue to apply.
Has there been an alteration to a commitment that existed prior to 7.30pm AEST on 10 May 2011 such that a 'new commitment' was established during the FBT year? Examples of a 'new commitment' arising from a pre-existing commitment include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the employer refinances a car • the employer or employee alters the duration of an existing contract, and • accessories are fitted to a leased car resulting in increased lease payments.

Was the car acquired during the FBT year?
Where the car was acquired during the year, you must have details relating to the 'cost price' of the car. Remember, the 'cost price' of the car includes expenditure directly attributable to the acquisition of the car. However, registration and stamp duty are excluded. Refer to TR 2011/3 for guidance on the meaning of 'cost price'.
Has the car been 'held' for at least four full FBT years? If so, reduce the base value of the car by one-third.
Were there any days during the FBT year when the car was unavailable for private use? The taxable value of the car benefit is reduced by the number of days during the FBT year in which the car was not available for private use by the employee (or the employee's associate). TIP! As 2015-16 is a leap year, remember to use 366 days in your calculation where relevant.
Did the employee contribute to the running costs of the car? An employee contribution is an amount paid towards the running costs of the car from the employee's after tax income. The taxable value of the benefit is reduced by the amount of the contributions. Appropriate evidentiary documents are required to be maintained. Was the employee contribution made directly to the employer? If so, the amount is required to be included in the employer's assessable income. The contribution may also be treated as a taxable supply for GST purposes, in which case the employer is liable to remit GST. Where the amount is paid by the employee directly to a third party (such as a mechanic) and not reimbursed by the employer, the employee contribution is not assessable to the employer. The employer is also not liable for GST on the contribution.
Operating Cost Method
What are the opening and closing odometer readings for the car?

CAR FRINGE BENEFITS	YES/NO
Was the car acquired during the FBT year? If yes, has a log book been kept for a minimum continuous period of 12 weeks? A log book is required to be maintained for a continuous 12 week period to establish the business usage. If a log book is not maintained, the operating cost method cannot be used. Note that a log book is only valid for five years. A new log book is required after that time or earlier if the pattern and business usage of the car changes.
Was the car replaced during the FBT year? If the car was replaced, the previously established business percentage may be transferred to the replacement car, provided the percentage had not changed.
Where the car was not acquired during the FBT year, has a log book been kept in any of the previous four FBT years? If not, a new log book should have been maintained for a continuous 12 week period to establish the business usage. If a log book has not been maintained, the operating cost method cannot be used.
Is there a complete record of operating costs incurred in relation to the car during the FBT year? For example, petrol, repairs, registration, insurance etc. Note: Deemed depreciation (based on the FBT written down value of the car) and deemed interest must also be included in the operating costs of the car where the car is owned. Lease costs are taken into account where the car is leased.
What was the written down value of the car as at 1 April 2015? The deemed depreciation and deemed interest is calculated based on the opening written down value of the car as at 1 April 2015. Note that the car limit used for income tax purposes does not apply when working out deemed depreciation.

Did the employee contribute to the running costs of the car? An employee contribution is an amount paid towards the running costs of the car from the employee's after tax income. The taxable value of the benefit is reduced by the amount of the contributions. Appropriate evidentiary documents are required to be maintained. Was the employee contribution made directly to the employer? If so, the amount is required to be included in the employer's assessable income. The contribution may also be treated as a taxable supply for GST purposes, in which case the employer is liable to remit GST. Where the amount is paid by the employee directly to a third party (such as a mechanic) and not reimbursed by the employer, the employee contribution is not assessable to the employer. The employer is also not liable for GST on the contribution.
Exemptions
Is the vehicle a taxi, panel van or utility? If so, an exemption is available where there is private use of a vehicle by a current employee and the vehicle is either: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a taxi, panel van or a utility designed to carry less than one tonne, or • any other road vehicle designed to carry less than one tonne which is not designed to principally carry passengers, and the employee's use of such a vehicle is limited to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • travel between home and work (also see Miscellaneous Ruling MT 2027) • travel incidental to travel in the course of performing employment-related duties, and • non-work related use that is minor, infrequent and irregular.
Is the vehicle a dual cab vehicle? If so, the vehicle will qualify for the work-related use exemption only if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • it is designed to carry a load of one tonne or more, or more than eight passengers, or • while having a designed load capacity of less than one tonne, it is not designed for the principal purpose of carrying passengers. MT 2024 provides a list of dual cab vehicles eligible for exemption.
Is the vehicle a 'modified' vehicle? Certain modified vehicles are exempt from FBT where modifications permanently change a car and cannot be readily reversed for the car to be regularly used alternately as a passenger or non-passenger car. An example of such a vehicle is a hearse. Refer MT 2033 for guidance.

Is the vehicle an unregistered vehicle? If a car is unregistered for the full FBT year and used principally for business purposes (such as off-road or cars used on farms), any private use is exempt from FBT. A car that may be lawfully driven on a public road is regarded as being registered.

DEBT WAIVER FRINGE BENEFITS	YES/NO
Does a debt waiver benefit arise?
Has an employer (or associate) released the employee (or associate) from repaying an outstanding debt? A debt waiver fringe benefit arises.
Does the debt forgiveness give rise to a deemed dividend under Division 7A ITAA36? If so, the debt waiver does not constitute a fringe benefit. Section 109F ITAA36 may operate to treat a forgiven debt as a deemed dividend in the hands of a current or former shareholder (or associate) of a private company even if they are also an employee of the company (see s109ZB(2) ITAA36).
What was the reason for the debt waiver? Does the debt waiver constitute the forgiveness of a genuine bad debt? If so, the debt waiver is exempt from FBT.
Calculation of taxable value
Calculated as the amount of the debt waived plus any unpaid interest that has also been waived.
Exemption
Is the minor benefits exemption pursuant to s58P FBT Act applicable?

LOAN FRINGE BENEFITS	YES/NO
